Environmental sustainability

Since our foundation we have been committed to safeguarding the environment, reducing to minimum waste and fully recycling waste materials resulting from stone processing. Furthermore, starting in 2022, we have joined the program of the Italian platform Treedom, a Florentine B-Corp that finances agroforestry projects in order to create sustainable ecosystems and allow thousands of farmers to face the initial costs of planting new trees, guaranteeing over time environmental, social and economic benefits.

With the support of Treedom, more than 3 millions of trees of all kinds have been planted all over the world, from Kenya to Tanzania, from Cameroon to Colombia. For these reasons we decided to give life to our "Forest" too, giving the possibility to all customers to follow the story of every single tree, from the nursery to the grounding, offering a transparent account of the project activities that we strongly support.

A photograph of a garden corner. On the left is a wall made of stacked natural stones in various shades of brown and grey. In front of the wall, on the left, is a small arrangement of smooth, light-colored river stones. To the right of the river stones is a bed of white gravel. A tree with a light-colored trunk and dense green foliage stands in the gravel bed. The foreground is a paved area made of large, rectangular grey stones. The overall scene is well-lit, suggesting daytime.
